WELLA WILD

Wella Wild is a little girl just like one of your friends or maybe like someone who lives next door. Some days she likes to wear baggy sweatpants and mismatched socks. Other days she might wear a glittery princess dress with silver fairy wings. Her choice of outfit depends on her mood when she gets out of bed in the morning.

Wella Wild has an ordinary name, too. Her name is Wella Jones but her mother realized, when Wella was a very little girl that her mind was buzzing with colors and glittering with imagination to enhance everyday life. So she nicknamed her Wella Wild and it stuck.

COMPUTER VIRUS

Wella Wild lazily flipped the pages of her textbook. She was lost in her thoughts. Her teacher's booming voice startled Wella from her daydreaming. Her teacher blurted out naughty words. Such naughty words! How does she even know all those words?

"Darn virus!" Her teacher grumbled and shook the computer. She pushed all the buttons on the keyboard and tugged at the computer cables. This made Wella Wild very curious. She walked over to her teacher and offered her a soft clean tissue from her pocket. The teacher looked inquisitively at Wella and the tissue.

WELLA WILD IS A LITTLE GIRL WITH A LIVELY IMAGINATION.
WHEN A STRANGE VIRUS STARTS BOTHERING
COMPUTERS AND TOY ANIMALS AND A LADY
WITH A HANDKERCHIEF ON HER FACE WALKS
DOWN THE STREET, WELLA STRATS TO WORRY.
FORTUNATELY HER MOTHER KNOWS HOW TO EXPLAIN WHAT A VIRUS REALLY IS AND EVEN WELLA'S LITTLE BROTHER LEARNS THAT
BOOGERS ARE NOT WORTH EATING. AT LEAST IN HUGE AMOUNTS.
